Thank you so much for sending your splendid work(s) to the 65th Peace Art Exhibition in the Tokyo Metropolitan Art Museum. This year we received 415 works by 220 artists from 8 countries.

In virtue of your works the exhibition hall was full of passion for peace. We are very glad that the visitors also felt peace mind and international friendship.

Please receive the poster, the participant certification, and the photographs. We will expect your participation again.

Please take care of yourself, and be brisk up your activities.

Children's Artwork Exhibited in Tokyo!

We received this lovely letter from the curator of the 2017 Peace Art Exhibition in Tokyo recently. Miriam Cameron (grandmother of Lilly Shadbolt in Room 10) visited school to work with Norah and the children of Room 10 on some 'peace art' as part of last term's Learning Pathways.

Their finished piece was exhibited, along with Miriam's. Below you can see Miriam's art (left) and the class's work (right). Above are visitors to the exhibition viewing both artworks.

This charity collects old mobile phones and recycles the parts. There is a collection box for these outside my office. Donations gratefully received any time!

OLD GLASSES LYING AROUND AT HOME?

Volunteer Ophthalmic Services Overseas (VOSO) is a New Zealand charitable trust providing free eye aid to the Pacific. VOSO plays a huge role in helping restore sight to those less fortunate in the Pacific Islands through sight-saving surgery and the distribution of thousands of pairs of glasses each year.

If you would like to help, please give your old frames and sun-glasses (fit for wear eg not broken or crooked with lenses intact) a new life by handing them in to the office by 29 September. I will collect- and send them to Lions Papakura Eyeglass Recycling Centre who prepares the glasses for VOSO.

Thank you for your support!

Susanne Bradley

Gardening on the Ridge

VOSO

This wonderful charity (see notice above) organises pairs of unwanted spectacles to be sent for reuse by people who cannot afford new glasses. It sits so well with everything we try to do at Bayswater School – from the idea of reusing rather than throwing away, to reaching out and helping others where we can.

Susanne Bradley (Sam in Room 2 and Stella in Room 4's Mum) is organising this collection so if you have any old pairs of glasses at home, please drop them into the office by next Friday (29th September).
