EPro8 Technology Challenge

Bailey Flavell, Samuel Bradley, Zoe Evans and Nicholas Johnson took part in the Vector EPro8 technology Challenge last week. They travelled to Glenfield Intermediate School and were given a whole range of technological problems which they had to work together as a group to solve. They were delighted to be placed second and are now looking forward to representing the school at the semi-final! We had to make a robotic dog with a wagging tail. It was hard to understand and to build. We just took it step by step so it all made sense," said Bailey. Well done to you all!

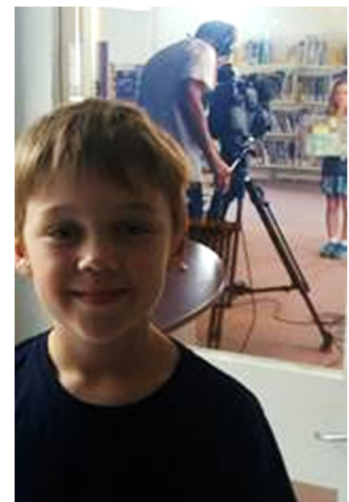

Rōpu Kapa Haka

Our 58-strong performance kapa haka group went to Belmont Intermediate School last week to take part in the Peninsula Kapa Haka Festival. The day started with a pōwhiri and then continued on with performances from the Peninsula primary and intermediate schools. Our group performed with real heart. They were a credit to themselves, the school and the adults who have been working with them: Cara Ferguson, Allison Butcher and Sasha Gilles. We are looking forward to seeing them at the Onepoto Festival.

Another highlight of the Peninsula Festival was seeing the BIS group. So many of the children are former students of Bayswater School and it was wonderful to see how their skills have developed in the year or two since leaving us. They were also a real credit to their school and to Megan Tapsell (Kahu's Mum) who has been working with them this year. We are hopeful that they may be able to perform in one of our remaining assemblies of the year – they will be a real inspiration to our children and will, I am sure, encourage even more of our kids to take up kapa haka in 2018!

Seven Days TV Show

At the start of last week, children in Whānau Wai (middle school) were asked to draw pictures about two recent news items for possible inclusion in the TV3 show, Seven Days. They all worked hard on their drawings and four were selected by the producers of the show. The lucky four were filmed in the library, talking about their pictures. They were: Rebecca Rose, Oliver Moy, Isaac Richardson and Leo King. Oli and Leo's recordings were then shown as part of the show on Friday night. Well done to you all!

Learning Pathways

This term, the children's Learning Pathways has been about telling the wider community about us and where we have all come from by making boards for the school's front fence. The prototypes are now hanging in Room 2. If you would like to pop into school to see what we have been doing, please visit Room 2 and get your child to show you. If you feel that one of the boards represents your culture or ancestors, please let us know if there are improvements the children can make – we would welcome your comments and suggestions. Part of the design process is about getting feedback about how well the designs meet the brief and acting on feedback to make improvements. Please write your comments on the sticky notes provided.

Duathlon

Those of you who attended the Duathlon on Sunday will already know what a superbly organised event it was. As usual, the weather came right for us and we were treated to a great day out in the sun. The celebrity starter, Cameron Leslie, hit just the right note with his inspirational talk to the crowd. We owe a huge debt of gratitude to all the parents and whānau involved in the organisation before and on the day. It was a truly wonderful occasion – thank you for all your hard work.

A message from the Parent Group

A huge thank you to all the parents, teachers, school staff and other members of the community who went above and beyond, volunteering countless hours to deliver the Bayswater Kids Duathlon for the 22nd year on Sunday. Thank you all for a tremendous effort!

Thank you also to all our sponsors, our major sponsor Peter Vollebregt from Premium Real Estate; Auckland Transport, Global Action Plan Oceania, Takapuna-Devonport Local Board, Alan Jones Law Partnership, Bayswater Marina and Comprehensive Care. We couldn't do it without your support!

And we can't forget all the community sponsors who donated goods, services and vouchers to our event.

It was fantastic day, we were so fortunate the weather cooperated and feedback has been that the kids had a pretty good time!

Just a reminder, online and cash fundraising finishes on 22 November. We have some awesome prizes and a class party for highest fundraisers AND spot prizes the kids can win for taking part in the fundraising! All profits go toward the new playground and awnings.

Thanks again
The Parent Group
